

RESIDENTIAL

BRUNSWICK HOUSE

The Denman home is a wonderful example of an old home which was once closed up, cold and dark, even during the daytime. The renovation to the home brought the opportunity to rearrange the internal rooms to better suit the site conditions, allowing light into all parts of the home, and open up spaces while maintaining generous space for storage and for leisure.

